Public Safety Supervisor Ariizumi advised the Commission that there will likely be a second Transportation and Public Safety Commission meeting, in June, to discuss the proposed installation of a 10 minute loading zone, parking restriction, on Pentland Street, where the former Doug Sears Learning Center was located. The facility is being transformed into a pre-k day care center which will require a parking restriction for safe pick up and drop off for students. He also discussed the possibility of appointing a Transportation and Public Safety Commissioner to the, Local Road Safety Grant Committee; a committee that's required of cities to be able to apply for safety grants. He announced that the Camellia Festival was a big success with revenues exceeding previous years and the upcoming Concerts in the Park. Lastly, he announced that Neighborhood Watch will resume in person, starting July 2022. However, since there is only 4 months left in the year, the meetings may be held either at Live Oak Park, for everyone to attend one central location, or the alternative, of dividing the city into east side and west side; a location has not been designated for that alternative.
